

SHRI LAL BHADUR SHASTRI DEGREE COLLEGE, GONDA
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
REPORT ON INVITED LECTURE

The Department of English organized an Invited Lecture on 21st July 2024 in Tulsi Sabhagar for the benefit of M.A. IV Sem. English students in particular and all other students in general. The Lecture in the form of Power Point Presentation was delivered by Dr. Jay Prakash Tiwari, Asst. Professor and Head of the department of English, Kisan P.G. College, Bahraich.

Prof. V.CH.N.K. Srinivasa Rao welcomed the guest and introduced him as one of the significant alumni of the department of English as Dr. Tiwari had been a product of the department of English of Shri Lal Bahadur Shastri Degree College.

Dr. Tiwari took an interesting topic of Myth of Helen in Literature and explained it quoting extensively from Greek and English literatures. He emphasized how Helen had been portrayed in Iliad of Homer, Christopher Marlowe's Dr. Faustus, and in the poems of W.B. Yeats as well. With the help of Power Point Slides he showed the various pictures of Helen described in the above said texts and many more, making the presentation quite interesting and illuminating.

Shri Vivek Pratap Singh, Dr. Vandana Bhartiya extended their critical comments on the insightful presentation of Dr. Tiwari and felicitated him with a shawl and memento. Shri Amit Verma (Guest Faculty) proposed the vote of thanks.

Principal Prof. Ravindra Kumar graced the event for a while and interacted with the guest.
