Objective :

The Grand Rangoli Programme was organized as a district-level competition with the key objective of raising awareness about the importance of 100% voter turnout in elections. This initiative aimed to encourage citizens, especially the youth, to actively participate in the democratic process by exercising their right to vote.

Program Details:

1. Inaugural Session : The event began with an inaugural ceremony where Dr. Chaman Kaur introduced the purpose of the competition. The program was officially opened by the Chief Guest, Neha Sharma, the District Magistrate of Gonda, who expressed her support for the initiative and highlighted the importance of voting in strengthening democracy.

2. Speech by the Chief Guest : Neha Sharma, the District Magistrate, delivered a motivating speech about the role of citizens, especially young voters, in shaping the future of the country. She emphasized the need for awareness and education regarding voting rights and urged the participants to spread the message of 100% voter participation within their communities.

3. Remarks by the Presiding Officer : Prof. Ravindra Kumar Pandey, the Principal of the college, reinforced the importance of such programs in educating students about their civic duties. He commended the participants for their creativity in using Rangoli as a medium to convey powerful messages related to voting.

4. Rangoli Competition : The highlight of the event was the Rangoli competition, where 300 participants from different institutions across the district created Rangoli designs based on the theme of 100% Voting Awareness. The colorful and intricate designs captured the essence of voting rights and democratic responsibility, promoting civic engagement through art.

5. Judging Panel : The entries were evaluated by a panel of judges, including faculty members and guest experts. The judges assessed the Rangoli designs based on creativity, relevance to the theme, and artistic execution.

6. Faculty participation : The competition was actively supported by faculty members, who played a key role in organizing and ensuring the smooth execution of the event . 7. Interactive Sessions : Throughout the event, the organizers held interactive sessions with the participants and the audience, engaging them in discussions about the importance of voting. Information was provided on how to register to vote, the role of each citizen in elections, and the impact of every single vote in ensuring fair representation.

8. Closing Ceremony : The event concluded with a prize distribution ceremony. The Chief Guest, Neha Sharma, and the Presiding Officer, Prof. Ravindra Kumar Pandey, distributed awards to the winners of the Rangoli competition. The participants were appreciated for their efforts in creatively promoting the importance of voting.

Outcome:

The Grand Rangoli Programme successfully achieved its objective of spreading awareness about 100% voter participation. The event saw active participation from students across the district, making it a significant step toward encouraging the youth to take part in the democratic process. The creative use of Rangoli as a medium to communicate the importance of voting left a lasting impression on all attendees, ensuring that the message of active citizenship was well received.
